Bad Actors by Pandiculator

The two unclued entries, whose unchecked cells could form CUE JARS, are actors who both played a role in an episode of a TV show. They formed part of what is spelt out by first letters of extra words present in each across clue.

Solvers must thematically treat both entries, as in the source material, preserving real words or names. 11 contiguous cells formed of two entries must be highlighted, which give a thematic treatment of the novice, perhaps indicative of her level of enthusiasm towards proceedings.
